Science Week

As you may know next week is British Science Week. <https://www.britishscienceweek.org/> This coincides with Cambridge Science Festival <https://www.sciencefestival.cam.ac.uk/> and our Mayfield Science Week. We will have a focus on science at school with all children taking part in a whole school science activity on Wednesday morning. We also have several parent scientists coming in to share their expertise with us for which we are very grateful. There are things happening all over Cambridge if you follow the link above and download the brochure you can book or turn up to a very wide range of events for children and adults. If you wanted some ideas of activities to do at home there are a few here....
